

Nature in summer

Nature in summer is very pure

Gazing at the lush green leaves is my cure.

When the summer approaches, trees put on their new dress.

The cooing of the birds for us is bliss.

The night is just clear and bright.

And in the evening, we get Sunkissed by the sun's light.

In the summer plants and trees are full of fruits

Some are sweet and some are good.

Colourful flowers are blooming everywhere.

Spreading their smell in the air

Migrating birds chirp-at my window

The shadow of the trees is shelter for animals.

The sun's rays on the lakes look beautiful.

The days are longer, and the nights are shorter.

An owl hooting late into the night.

And bats flying all around in the sky.

This is what summer's nature feels like

A very beautiful sight.
