

THIS IS HOME

I noticed the tree swing and the wind and the crows and eagles overhead.

I watch the rivers and streams make lakes.

I noticed the calming sound of the eagles squawking and the patter of my feet.

*This is HOME

The sound of the pans swishing the man-made reservoir and the clothes swaying over the water

It sounds like all five oceans in the world are around me

I notice The fresh, damp smell of the sunflowers by the reservoir brazed against my nose

*The is HOME

I notice walking across the coarse and prickly grass barefoot and the sunflower so soft glazing across.

I watch the tiny streams forming into a rushing river

THIS IS WHAT HOME SHOULD FEEL LIKE
